Our Church History

Jones Road Congregational Church is Cleveland's only remaining Welsh-rooted church.

In 1857 Thomas D. Jones and George M. Jones organized a prayer meeting in Newburgh. The next year the church was officially chartered with 15 members.

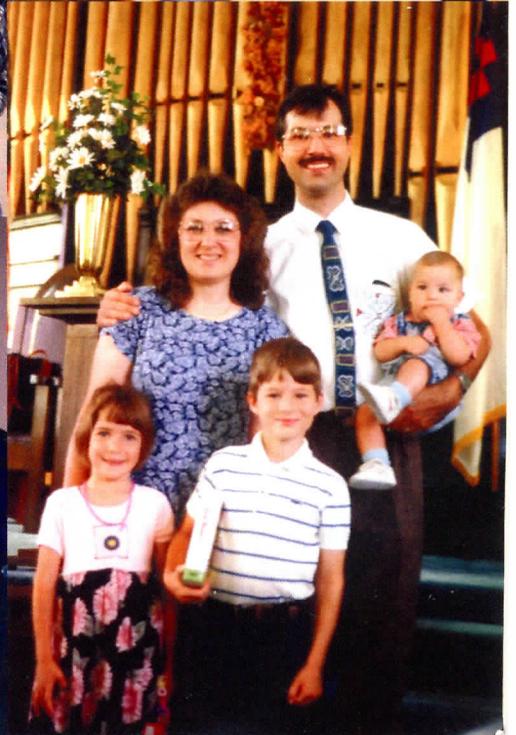

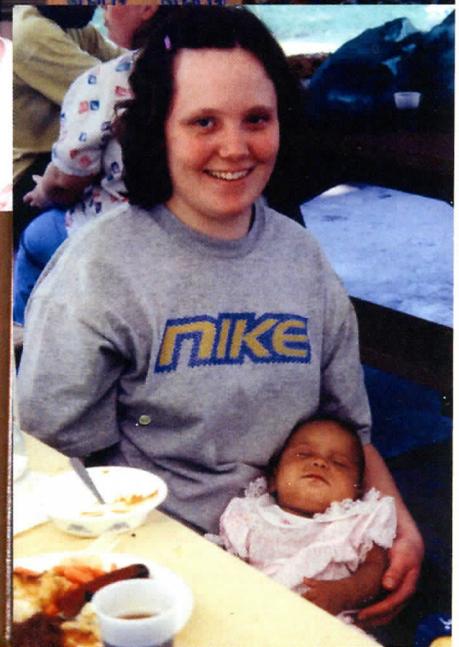

The Welsh Congregationalists held services in private homes under the leadership of Deacon George M. Jones. In 1860 they constructed a chapel on Wales Street.

The building was used until the present church was constructed in 1876. In honor of the country's centennial, the church was called the Centennial Welsh Congregational Church. Over the next 100 years the church continued to have strong Welsh connections.

Until the 1980's the church hosted gymanfa ganus (Welsh songfest) and had Welsh-speakers in its congregation.
